N. Lenox Man Needham Heads In Hospital After Crash

Dennis Norton, 27, of 134 Fourth st., New Lenox, is still in the Silver Cross hospital with hip and pelvic injuries suffered early New Year's morning when he is alleged to have veered over into another lane and crashed headon with a car driven by Wilbur H. Nelson, 46, of Joliet.

The accident occurred on East Washington street at the Michigan Central crossing on the edge of Cherry Hill. Nelson suffered face and chest injuries but was released from the hospital later in the day. His wife, however, Grace Nelson, 35, an employee of County Clerk Joseph Hartley, was seriously injured, it was reported. She is still confined to the hospital. Norton was given a ticket by Deputies Paul Lukanich and Edward Mayer charging him with driving too fast for conditions and causing an accident. The report states the Nelsons were westbound on Washington street and Norton was traveling east. He is alleged to have crossed over into the westbound lane. The collision occurred about 2 a.m. last Friday.

Death Takes Life Resident Of Frankfort

Mrs. Bertha Eisenbrandt, nee Redlin, late of 245 White st., Frankfort, died Sunday, Jan. 3, at St. James Hospital, Chicago Heights. She was 68 years old. Mrs. Eisenbrandt had been in ill health for sometime but her condition did not become acute until Saturday night. She was removed to the hospital early Sunday morning and died there about 4:30 a.m.

She was born Sept. 6, 1891 on a farm in Frankfort township, the daughter of John and Mary Redlin. The family moved into the village of Mokena in 1907 and Mrs. Eisenbrandt had resided there since.

She was a member of the Women's Guild of St. Peter's church and of Camp 6036, Royal Neighbors, at Frankfort.

Her husband, Frank A. Eisenbrandt, is a plumbing and heating contractor, a business in which he has been engaged for the past 45 years. They were married Sept. 2, 1914.

Besides her husband Mrs. Eisenbrandt is survived by three sons, Ray, Eugene and Burlin, all of Frankfort, and three grandchildren.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Peter's church with the Rev. Erich G. Bizer officiating. The Zechlin Funeral Service was in charge. Burial was in Pleasant Hill cemetery.

Mokena Plan Commission

Berle Needham, assistant auditor for the Rock Island railroad and active in civic affairs, has been elected chairman of the Mokena plan commission.

He succeeds Maurice P. Angland. Angland had held the post for two years and was not a candidate for reelection.

Leo Marcoux was reelected secretary-treasurer and Alfred Kuchenbecker was reelected vice chairman.

There are eight members of the commission. Besides those just mentioned the others are, Fred Lehmann, Eric Book, Elias Brown and Lawrence Kohl. Members of the plan commission are appointed by the mayor and approved by the Mokena village board.

Now that Mokena has adopted an official master plan the plan commission has jurisdiction over subdivisions within a mile and a half radius of the village limits.

Attempt Made To Burglarize Drug Store

Burglars were apparently frightened away early Tuesday, after gaining entrance to Elliott's Pharmacy, New Lenox. About $200 in damages was reported, but no cash or merchandise was taken.

Night Patrolman, Loren Cantrell, noticed the rear door ajar at 3:30 a.m. Tuesday and notified F.N. Elliott, owner of the store, who ascertained that stock and money was untouched.

Before forcing the rear door an attempt was made to gain entrance through a ventillator and by forcing a side door when this failed the culprits apparently tried the rear door. Elliott estimated the total damage at $200.

F.H. Masters Candidate For States Atty.

Will county's state's attorney, Frank H. Masters, has made formal announcement of his candidacy for re-election. He will seek the Republican nomination for the office at the primary next April 12.

His petitions are in circulation and will be filed this month. First day for filing is Jan. 18 with the last day being Jan. 25.

State's Attorney Masters has been practicing law 22 years and resides at Joliet with his wife and two sons.

He is vice president of the state association of state's attorneys and is a member of the committee named by the Illinois and Chicago bar associations to revise the criminal code of the state. The present code is outdated, it is claimed, and proposed changes will be submitted to the legislature. Masters is running on his record as state's attorney and points to the fact that the county is free of organized crime and vice and added that he expected to keep it that way.

Four other county posts are to be filled in the general election Nov. 8, 1960 and the nominees will be chosen in the April primaries.

Other incumbents whose terms expire next year are, Circuit Clerk J. Elmer Swansbro, Recorder of Deeds Robert Spreitzer, Auditor Martin Lundquist and Coroner Willard G. Blood. They have not yet announced they will be candidates but their petitions are in circulation. All are Republicans.

HELICOPTER HITS WIRE

A helicopter, believed to have been carrying mail, came down on the Clyde Schofield farm, three miles east of Frankfort, Tuesday afternoon. It hit a power line. The pilot, Donald Mattes, 30, of Chicago, came to the Hedges Clinic at Frankfort where he received first aid. His injuries are said to have been slight. The plane is the property of the Chicago Helicopter Service, which is said to furnish craft to carry the mail. The pilot apparently did not notify anyone other than his headquarters of the accident as the Federal Aeronautics Administration office at Joliet had not heard of it, nor had state or county police. The bubble in which the pilot sits was broken when the craft hit the wire and some of the pieces cut his face.

Sewers Still Major Projects Before Area Communities

Sewers still claim the spotlight in the area as the new year and decade opens.

Frankfort is ready to begin work on its system, that will include a sewage treatment plant.

Orland Park residents will vote Jan. 23 on proposals to authorize general obligation and revenue bond issues to meet the cost of a community sewer system and improvements to the water system.

New Lenox has not yet reached the stage where the question of authorizing bonds can be placed before the public but the village board is working with engineers on plans for sewers.

At the meeting of the village board at Frankfort Monday night the trustees reported that practically all of the easements had been obtained and actual work can begin anytime the weather permits, it was said.

D'Andrea Construction Co. of Joliet has the contract for installing the sewer mains. Most of these mains, it was said, will be carried in alleys or at the rear of properties and only a few will be installed in the streets. Streets will be used, it was said, only where it is not feasible or too costly to use other right-of-way.

Mokena completed its sewer system last year but there are still quite a number of persons who have not yet connected their holdings with the mains. There is a penalty now for delay.

In last week's paper there was a typographical error in the total of the bond issues at Orland Park. The total was given as $455,000 when it should have been $555,000. Of this amount $100,000 would be G.O. bonds and $455,000 revenue.

"We have considered the proposed sewer and water system improvement programs for Orland Park for a long time," Mayor W. R. Schussler, Jr., said, speaking for the board, "and believe the project most economical at this time. I don't believe we will live long enough to see a better opportunity than we have now."

"We believe that delay of another year would probably cost us substantially more than to do the job now. From information we have been able to gather this will be an opportune time to get the program started."

Growth of the community in the past year has made it imperative, it was explained, to drill another well and improve the water system. Last summer there were numerous complaints from the Orland Hills development, householders there complaining of a lack of pressure.

The village board had hoped that a well in the area could be used to produce more water there but an examination by experts proved it worthless.

Orland Park will not have to build a sewage treatment plant. The Chicago sanitary district is doing that for the community. It will be of sufficient size to serve a population of 8,000.

1st 1960 Baby From N. Lenox

A baby boy born to a New Lenox couple was the first arrival in Will county in 1960, according to reports from hospitals and doctors.

The youngster is the fourth child for Charles and Lou Ann Putts, of 110 Michael Lane, and entered the world weighing six pounds, 14 ounces.

The father, 33, is an accountant at the Caterpillar company plant in Joliet. The mother is 29. The baby was born at St. Joseph hospital at 12:27 a.m. Jan. 1.

Arrest Area Youth After Fight on Joliet Street

A Mokena man is in the Will county jail, a Frankfort youth is out on bond and warrants have been issued for two young men at New Lenox as a result of a fight at Joliet Sunday night.

The Mokena man, Owen Bosard, 21, is being held in the county jail as an alleged probation violator and authorities are checking further into his case.

At liberty under bond is Robert Wondrasek, 17, of 25 Oregon st., Frankfort. Being sought are Kenneth Hossack, 17, and David Novak, 19, both of New Lenox. Wondrasek is scheduled to appear in Joliet police court Saturday, Jan. 9.

Warrants for the quartet were issued on complaint of Dennis McGann, 16, a son of a Joliet police officer, Donald McGann.

According to the police report McGann and a friend, Robert Martin (no age given) of Joliet, were followed when they drove away from a hamburger stand on Cass st., Joliet, by a car driven by Wondrasek.

Police Dept. Is Seeking Volunteers

Frank Guetter, police commissioner of Orland Park, has put out a call for volunteers to serve on the force.

He hopes to get a class of 15 so he can start a course of instruction by mid-month. All applicants will be screened. They must be citizens and physically fit. Age is not a major factor, Guetter said.

"We now have five men on the volunteer police force at Orland," Commissioner Guetter said, "and we need more so we can reduce the hours of service. Most of the volunteers naturally will be working at other jobs and it is only fair that the hours be reduced as much as possible."

Persons who would volunteer for this duty may communicate with the commissioner by calling Fieldbrook 9-2903 or meeting him at the village hall Monday nights.

Highway Plans Include Expenditures In Area

This week Governor William Stratton released the details of Illinois' 1960 highway improvement program. It will cost the taxpayers of our state about $201,400,000.

In his report he said that about $118 million will go for projects on the Interstate highway system and the rest (about $83 million) will go for improvements on other state highways.

The report included approximately $6,656,000 worth of work that is to be completed here in Will County.

Rt. 66 will undergo improvements or construction in landscaping, signing, interchange and approaches, bridges, grade separations, bridge floor and Mount Creek channel changes worth $2,313,000 in Will County alone.

3 1/2 MILLION JOB

The construction of Federal Aid Interstate Route 80 which runs west from New Lenox and south around Joliet to Rt. 47 north of Morris will undergo some construction additions between New Lenox and Rt. 66. A four lane pavement 3.6 miles long will be built and will include grade separation (from Rt. 66) a bridge and an interchange structure all costing $3,003,000.

This construction will be from the Will-Grundy County line to Rt. 66. For the purchase of right of way extending from Rt. 66, 10.4 miles east around Joliet, a half million dollars has been budgeted.

For right of way on Rt. 66 at Welco Corners $60,000 has been set aside.

Construction of a 1.59 mile stretch of four lane road on Rt. 30 northwest of Larkin Avenue to Ag-drasek. At Cass and Collins when the two cars halted for a traffic light words were exchanged between the occupants of the vehicles and at Collins and Jackson where McGann stopped for another light the people in Wondrasek's car are alleged to have swarmed out and approached the other auto. McGann's companion was clobbered before he could lock the door on his side. McGann pushed the latch on his door and thus escaped any blows. However, Bosard is alleged to have broken off a rear view mirror from the car and then broke in the window on McGann's side.

Bosard was arrested in Mokena and held for Joliet police who picked him up on a warrant Monday night. He has been in the county jail since. He was placed on probation last year in county court after having pleaded guilty to a charge of petit larceny growing out of the stripping of a car that had been stolen at Lockport and abandoned near Mokena.

More Street Lights For Frankfort

Frankfort is to have more street lights. At the meeting of the village board Monday night a report by Public Service company engineers relative to the program was approved by the council.

The plans call for some 30 lights in Lincoln Meadows, a housing development south of U.S. 30. These lights will be installed on an average of about 300 feet apart.

The board also has ordered a light on Nebraska street between Locust and Maple and one on East Bowen where there is a long stretch that is not illuminated.

It was estimated that the new lights will add approximately $800 to the annual lighting bill.

No date was given as to when the work will start. Weather may be a factor.

nes Street in Joliet will cost $910,000 with an additional $125,000 for right of way acquisition.

Near Wilmington the state will build a $75,000 bridge over Horse Creek at Custer Park. For purchase of right of way, $5,000 more will be spent.

From the E.J. & E. Railroad at Frankfort south to Rt. 52 there will be 9.72 miles of right of way acquired for future construction at a cost of $10,000.

TO IMPROVE RT. 52

Other right of way being acquired includes .39 miles of Rt. 52 (Jefferson St.) in Joliet from Wilcox Ave. to east of Center Street at a cost of $25,000.

For the same purpose 3.11 miles of this Rt. 52 from east of Rt. 66 to west of Larkin Avenue in Joliet will cost $5,000.

On Rt. 6 there will be .8 of a mile of right of way purchased from Channahon Rd. to FAI 80 (SW of Joliet) at a cost of $20,000.

In order to purchase right of way for the improvement of the road presently running from Plainfield directly east along the north side of Lewis College to Rt. 66A there will be $5,000 spent.

These expenditures outlined by the Governor's report which are scheduled in Will County, represent about three and a third percent of the total being spent by the State of Illinois in 1960 on the highway improvement program.

The island of Formosa, headquarters of the Chinese Nationalists, was Japanese territory from 1895 until 1945.

Mayors Talk Of Unifying Ordinances

An informal meeting last Saturday between Mayor W.R. Schussler, Jr., of Orland Park, and Mayor Elmer Knudsen, of Tinley Park, is expected to lead to a session of all the mayors of the area to discuss mutual problems brought about by housing developments.

The two officials met for lunch at Valley View Farm to talk over the growing pains that are afflicting most communities.

It is their belief that one of the things that would ease the problem would be for area communities to revamp ordinances pertaining to annexation, subdivisions and kindred subjects so they would be uniform.

Such an agreement, it was pointed out, would serve as a check on tactics used by some subdivisions to pit one community against another in order to further their own aims.

A meeting of the mayors of the various communities in the region will be arranged later, it was said, with a view of working out a program beneficial to the villages.

Sandburg HS Caucus Will Meet Monday

The Carl Sandburg Community Caucus, an organization formed to pick candidates for the high school board, is scheduled to meet Monday night, Jan. 11, at 8 o'clock in the high school.

The caucus is made up of delegates from various civic, service and fraternal organizations in the school district. Each organization is requested to send two delegates and an alternate to the meeting Monday night.

At that time the caucus will elect a chairman and other officers. An executive board and a committee to screen and recommend candidates for the school board also will be chosen.

Later on the caucus will meet to choose the two candidates it will support in the coming school election. Those in charge are now asking names of possible candidates and are hopeful some may be forthcoming by Monday night.

Organizations naming delegates and alternates to the caucus have been asked to send their credentials to Ralph Haag of 8315 one hundred and nineteenth st., Palos Park.

The public may attend the caucus sessions, it was stated, but only accredited delegates will be allowed to vote.

Local Police Handier, Says Frankfort Mayor

Frankfort residents confronted with an emergency requiring police service are advised to call their own department, Mayor George Sangmeister said yesterday.

"Persons who need police usually need them in a hurry," the mayor said, "and if village residents call our department they will get help much faster than if they called state county authorities."

"How soon state or county police can arrive depends upon where their cars are at the time the call is received, whereas our equipment is here."

The mayor pointed out that Frankfort has an inhalator that is available at all hours. He also added that in the event more men are needed than the Frankfort department can supply Chief of Police Francis Simon can call on the state or Sheriff Gilbert Knater for aid.

The telephone number of Frankfort police is 2161 -- the Frankfort fire department number is 2121.

Tinley Post Office Drivers
Earn Award For Safety

"Our city post office drivers have earned the 1959 post office Regional Operations Director's Award for Safety," Postmaster Harry Dean announced today. The award is signed by Robert R. Justus, Director of U.S. Mail Service in the Illinois-Michigan Postal Region.

Tinley Park postal drivers performed their driving assignments with care and courtesy and we are proud to have been singled out for this honor," the Postmaster said.

Justus stated, "It is my sincere wish that your office will repeat and even improve your safety record next year, so I may again have the chance to say 'Thanks' to you for contributing to the Regional improvement in safety activities."

Tinley Park drivers are a part of the huge postal fleet which travels nearly a billion miles a year. This gigantic movement of the nation's mail volume requires 100,000 vehicle operators. Since initiating the safety program Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield has accepted many safety awards on behalf of postal employees.

Through an organized safety movement by him, Regional Operations Directors and 37,000 postmasters, a tremendous improvement has resulted. Downward trends in costly accidents are making an impressive contribution for better service to the public.

In addition to the group performance award by the Regional Operations Director, individual safe driver awards are presented to accident free employees based on their experience each year.

The drivers who were included in the citation are Leonard R. Fries with two years accident-free driving, Earl E. Rockrohr with eight years, Walter T. Leeper with three years and Harry J. Werner with one year.

Editorials

"Age Of The Shoddy"

(This editorial was taken from the Industrial News Review and we reproduce it because it expresses our sentiments so well.)

"This was the era, domestically, when everything was half done; the era, in foreign affairs, when nothing was done right because nobody seemed to care enough to exercise the foresight and take the pains to see that it was done right. This was the time when the job on the car was always half finished, the suit came back from the cleaners half dirty, the yardwork was overpriced and underdone, the bright new gadget broke down a week after you got it home, the prices climbed higher and higher as the quality got less and less, and the old-fashioned rule of a fair bargain for a fair price was indeed old-fashioned, for it never applied to anything. The great Age of Shoddy came upon America after the war, and Everybody Wants His became the guiding principle for far too many.

Thus Allen Drury describes the postwar era, in his novel "Advise and Consent" -- a work in which he uses the vehicle of fiction to present an extraordinarily revealing picture of Washington's political, diplomatic and social worlds.

The accuracy of his indictment is undeniable. Yet, in the immediate postwar years, it was possible to find seemingly valid excuses. The relaxation of war tensions resulted, naturally enough, in emotional and financial excesses. An attitude of "live for today and never mind tomorrow" became general. On the purely material side, the lifting of wartime restrictions on industrial production created an eager and apparently insatiable market for almost anything, no matter how poor the quality or exorbitant the price.

Had this sorry situation spent itself in a reasonable time there would have been small cause for worry. But who can honestly deny that the dark picture, Mr. Drury paints is still -- in the fundamentals, if not all the details -- the picture that obtains in this country?

The problem if course, is a moral problem. The Protestant Episcopal Bishop of Michigan, the Rt. Reverend Richard Emrich, speaks for churchmen of all the denominations when he says: "Everywhere I travel I hear arguments, but I never hear a moral argument, with someone saying, 'this is wrong, or unjust, or dishonest, and I will have nothing to do with it.' I think we are floundering as a people."

And there lies the tragedy. For the basic strength of any nation is its moral strength. All the weapons, all the productive capacity, all the money on earth, cannot save a people from ultimate destruction if their moral fiber decays, their national character rots, and they sink into an abyss of material cynicism, indifference, selfishness, avarice, greed.

A short time ago the television scandals, centering around rigged quiz shows, captured the national headlines and were publicized the world around. The Saturday Evening Post has devoted a full-page editorial to the matter in which it makes a big and often overlooked point. It offers no excuses for the deceit -- "those who have been damned by the revelations deserved to be damned." But, the Post also says "... we believe that the importance of their guilt has been wildly exaggerated, the significance of their guilt almost wholly overlooked ... What is important is that we recognize the television scandals for what they are -- a symptom of the declining standards of moral behavior in the United States, that twinge in the national belly that warns of deep-seated malignancy in the body politic." And those declining standards, it goes on, can be found in some form and in some degree virtually everywhere -- in schools, professions, the labor unions, business and the government.

So much for the indictments. There is a bright side. It is found in the fact that more and more people, in public and private discussion, are talking about the problem, thinking about it worrying about it. An astute English observer of the American scene observed that the television mess may prove to be of enormous benefit -- by awakening the American people to the extent and character of moral decay, and removing the blinders from their eyes. The American people have been awakened to many kinds of dangers in the past, and have met them with wrath, with courage and with understanding.

And this is the hope -- that there will be a moral revival in this country, a cleaning of dirty houses. Failing that, everything else is doomed to fail.

On Second Tho't

There have been numerous times in the history of our nation that prices have been high but usually such surges were restricted to localities.

For instance, ham and eggs might have cost one five dollars in a mining camp or oil field while the same item sold for a quarter or fifty cents in stable communities.

Speculations -- and speculations -- usually rampant in times of war -- serve to boost prices, of course, and are general thruout the country. But they are expected. War is a costly business and the public as a whole is likely to look on loose spending then with tolerance.

Conversely when business is off and the economy suffers a blow -- such as a nation wide strike in a basic industry that not only results in a shut-off of the earning power of those employed in that industry but also causes layoffs in others -- prices drop.

But not today. Steel workers were on strike for more than a hundred days and as a result thousands of workers in other industries that depend upon a supply of steel were laid off. But the old cost of living just kept on going up.

There was a time, not too long ago when a thousand dollars was a respectable sum. Now it is looked upon more or less as change that one is expected to carry to take care of incidentals.

If you don't believe it listen to the pitchmen who sell cars, household appliances record players and many other items. To them a thousand dollars is good for only one white chip.

For instance, when salesmen talk about a low priced car today they mean a little job that stands one out around $3,000. True, the maker may give out a starting figure around $1,800 but it is not exactly clear whether that includes the wheels.

It would seem logical that a car should at least be driveable before one has to spend money for extras but don't count on it. Most cars delivered to dealers today are equipped with automatic shifts and automatic shifts cost extra.

But here is a new gimmick. A friend of mine purchased a new car recently and he told the dealer he wanted a standard gear shift. He got it but it cost him extra.

It looks like the time is not too far off when a person will have to sit on a hassock when he drives unless he pays extra for the seats. The passengers can sit on the floor or bring their own cushions.

One must admit, however, that things were worse during the war and right after -- . One at least gets a chassis and possibly an engine now for the list price. During the war period one practically paid that for promise of delivery. When the car came the whole thing was extra.

When the steel strike is settled the price of steel probably will be jacked up and that means the auto makers will take advantage of the opportunity to raise the price of cars again. Altho why car makers should raise their prices is hard to figure out. They are putting less steel in cars every year and the bodies are of sheet rolled so thin that one wonders if perhaps they aren't using aluminum foil -- starched.

This department doesn't pretend to be an economist nor have the answers to the situation but to get back to the line on which this started it would seem that people and prices can be pushed just so far -- then something's gotta give, as the songwriters say.

Look out below!

New Facilities Speed Issuing Of Licenses

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter today announced that the three new Motor Vehicle Facilities of his office located in Cook County were able to efficiently and conveniently handle almost twice the number of applicants for motor vehicle registrations this year than was possible at the over-crowded office at 334 S. Ashland Avenue last year. The figures are for the first three weeks of this year as compared to the corresponding period in 1958.

This year a total of 331, 930 passenger, truck and trailer license plates were sold at the three locations as compared to the total of 168, 041 number sold in the first three weeks of sales in 1958, Secretary Carpenter said.

A total of 158, 816 passenger plates was sold at the lone office in 1958, but this year the west side office alone sold almost as many -- 157, 220, Mr. Carpenter said.

The north side sales total was 84, 118 passenger plates. On the South side the total of passenger plates sold was 64, 251.

The three motor vehicle facilities operated by Secretary Carpenter's office are located at; on the north side, 5401 N. Elston Ave., on the west side at 5301 W. Lexington St., and on the south side at 9901 South Park ave.

Country Club Hill Pauses To Celebrate Holidays

By MARC JOT BARTNIK
Sycamore 8-7742

A quiet, peaceful week in Country Club Hill. Meetings were set aside until the holidays were over; therefore, not too much news from our various organizations. There has been much partying and many a New Year's "toast" among friends and neighbors.

Even Police Chief Marts reports "no incidents." From our police department does come a word or two about the work the volunteer policemen have been doing to make ready the area behind the City Hall for use as a pistol range. All policemen are required to shoot at least once a month. The pistol range is now ready for their use. In regard to these men who are donating their time and energies to the protection of our city; though they are volunteer police, they have all the powers and rights of a paid police force. They have the authority to make arrests and are conscientiously taking their turns behind the wheel of the squad car. It is a reassuring feeling to see the squad car on duty almost around the clock. If anyone has need of police aid, Chief Marts urges them to call SY 8-3191 without hesitation. Marts also announces that applications are again being accepted for volunteers. Anyone interested can apply at the city hall.

FIRE DEPARTMENT

The left side of the parking lot at the firehouse has been set aside for discarded Christmas trees, announces Chief Frank Daniels. Any resident who has not as yet disposed of his Christmas tree is urged to take advantage of this opportunity to do so. Trees will be held until next Wednesday, Jan. 13, when the fire department will burn them.

FIRE DEPARTMENT AUXILIARY
Next regular meeting of the auxiliary is scheduled to be held on January 20th at the home of Mrs. George Bartnik, 18100 S. Baker, at 8 p.m.

HOT ROD CLUB ORGANIZED
The Country Club Hills Hot Rod club has been organized a month ago for boys between the ages of 14 and 18. Sponsoring the newly-formed group are Mr. Dan Berdan and Chief John Marts. Meetings will be held in the homes of members for the time being on Tuesday evenings.

FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS
Parents and relatives of Emil Van Tichelt arrived from Libertyville, Ill., to spend the holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Tichelt and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Van Tiggelen, (aunt and uncle of Mr. Van Tichelt) all residents of Libertyville, joined Mrs. Mary Barnes of Chicago, mother of Mrs. Van Tichelt, at the Van Tichelt home, 17861 Anthony.

Sharon Bette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bette, was seriously ill for her second birthday on Dec. 23rd. Little Sharon was near pneumonia but has made a fine recovery.

An impromptu get-together at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Horn was held on New Year's Eve. Among those present to welcome in the New Year were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wakeman from Thornton; the Jim Moore's, Ken MacKenzie's, Don Schwenk's, and of course - the hosts - Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Horn.

A dinner party was given in honor of Carol Shaffner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Shaffner, on her sixth birthday, Dec. 9. Bobby Shaffner, brother of Carol was given a pet hamster by "Santa" for Christmas. It was reported that the new member of the family is fast becoming friends with Penny, the family collie. The George Barry's held open house throughout the holidays. On New Year's Eve they entertained friends from Chicago - Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Lyons and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lacaille. On New Year's Day, Mrs. Barry's father (Mr. Joseph Turner and daughter Rose) from Chicago spent the day. And on the Sunday after Christmas, they entertained Mr. Barry's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Anderson of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. William Coughlin moved Mrs. Coughlin's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Butterworth, along with their two children, Victor - 13 and Christine - 10 yrs. into their new home at 19030 Anthony on New Year's Eve. They completed the moving in time to join the John King's and Gus Palumbo's at the Palumbo residence to usher in the New Year at Midnight. The following day saw the family pets moved in - "Dale", a squirrel monkey, "Blackie", the dog, and a pet hamster, "Mr. C".

These holidays were extremely happy ones for Mrs. William Coughlin - Christmas Day was her birthday, her parents were in from Texas. She was given a flute (something she has wanted for a long time) for Christmas from her sister, Mrs. Butterworth, and since Mrs. Coughlin's Mother and entire family are music-minded, every evening was spent around the piano, either as a family gathering or with friends and neighbors. Mrs. Coughlin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Burton, returned to Texas on Dec. 29th, by air. The night before their departure was spent in a pre-New Year's Eve celebration with all the family present.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cox and their five children drove to Iowa on Christmas Day. They had intended to leave earlier and go as far as Nevada; however, three of their children had mumps and delayed their departure. They did make it as far as Alta, Ia., where they visited Mrs. Cox's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brishbois and then took off for Des Moines where Mr. Cox's parents, the John Coxes, Sr.'s, reside. New Year's Eve was spent with relatives in Des Moines, where after the party, everyone went bowling at 3 a.m. and to baggaging at 5 a.m. On New Year's Day, Mr. and Mrs. Cox, Sr., took the family to a spectacular ice show. The Coxes returned home Saturday, Jan. 2, and are now awaiting mumps to appear in their two youngest children. A wonderful interlude in between the children's indispositions.

On New Year's Eve, among the many neighborhood celebrations, was the party given by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wedderspoon of 4451 W. 179th. Their guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack McGrath, Mr. and Mrs. George Brogan, the Frank Lullo's, Ken Waddell's, Joseph Wachala's, James Nally's, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. James Martin held an impromptu get-together at their home on New Year's Eve also. Among their guests were members of the men's Poker Club and their wives: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Staska, the Terrence Moran's, Louis Duerinck's, George Shaffner's, and Ed Noyes'.

Another party held on New Year's Eve was enjoyed by guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Baader.

Those present were the Robert Arbuthnot's, Albert Stasko's, James Cronin's, and Friends from Chicago. The Lee Merriam's and George Bartnik's dropped in after other parties they had attended.

Mrs. Bert Petersen was hostess at a meeting of her neighbors on Monday, Jan. 4. The women meet every other Monday in one another's homes to play cards, etc. The group is comprised of: Mrs. Bob Landeen, Mrs. Emil Van Tichelt, Mrs. Marvin Beste, Mrs. Jack McGrath, Mrs. George Brogan, Mrs. Frank Lullo, Mrs. Ken Waddell, Mrs. James Nally, Mrs. Joseph Wachala and Mrs. Fred Wedderspoon.

On New Year's Eve, Mr. and Mrs. Don Merriam entertained several friends at their home. Among their guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Lee Merriam, Mr. and Mrs. Art Kerrison, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Harmon, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Erwin, former residents.

SANDBURG FACING MAJOR TESTS

Eagles To Buck Up Against Rockets And Vikings Next

How high!
How high can the Eagle fly?
How high can the Carl Sandburg Eagle fly?

This week-end will tell—"How High!"

The Vikings of Homewood-Flossmoor and the Rich Rockets gave the major test of the season to the high flying Eagles. The title hopes of the Carl Sandburg team will all but be settled over this week-end.

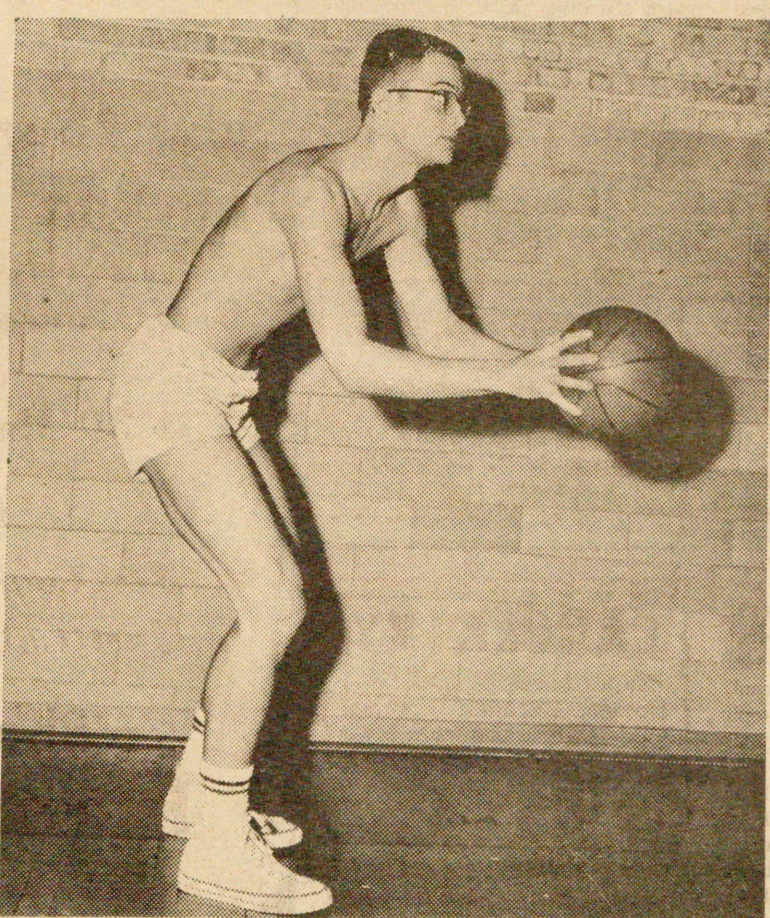

If Bill Adams' boys can come home with two wins and a 6-0, slate for the Bremen game of next week-end; those flying birds will bring home for the first time that crown to the Orland nest.

A split in the week-ends work will leave the Eagles in good shape for the second half run. A double loss would mean almost the end to title hopes. Sandburg would be down for Bremen and that is not a team to be down for -- they beat you -- bad.

On the strength of early season performance the Eagles should be able to take both of these clubs. However, Sandburg visits both clubs. Rich is tough at home before the great crowds which they draw. Homewood-Flossmoor can only be better in the home gym.

It will be a struggle in both contests. Both the Rockets and Vikings have one loss and either one could go into a first place tie with a victory.

Much depends on Don Arnold and Gerry McBride. Gerry and Don were rather cool in the wind-ups before the holiday. It would seem

SHARPSHOOTER — Jim Mifflin, a forward on the Bremen basketball team has developed quite a shooting eye and is pacing the other members of the squad in scoring. One week-end he hit the baskets for a total of 58 points, which is nice shooting in any league. Mifflin is a senior. (Marvin Smith Photo)

TALL ONES — and incidentally one might say these lads, Jerry McBride (left) and Don Arnold, are the backbone of the Carl Sandburg varsity basketball team this season and the team is doing very well.

According to that scale on the wall McBride tops the 6-foot-6 mark while Arnold is a little over 6'-9". Arnold is a center and McBride a guard. Both are seniors. (Marvin Smith Photo) that they are due to break out.

Arnold should not find the going tough against Rich. Phil Wagner is not fast, not nearly as fast as Don. Arnold should be able to fake and go for the basket with more ease than in previous games.

Ron Lindgren has been a pleasant surprise for Adams. If Ron can continue at a better than 10-point per game clip, the Sandburg team will be almost unbeatable.

The Bremen Braves, currently running second, will find the going easy in the Friday night engagement with Evergreen Park. The Mustangs are the weakest team in the circuit this year.

Mifflin and company should find the going rather easy.

However, Saturday evening should be an interesting one. Lincoln-Way has given Bremen plenty of trouble in the past couple of years in both basketball and football.

Last year, a weak group of Knights lost to Bremen by a four-point margin at New Lenox and then they were squeaked at Midlothian, 48-46.

This year both teams are better. Lincoln-Way worst defeat in conference play was a 61-53, loss to Rich. However, scores are proving to be poor yardsticks of judgments.

Rich beat Homewood-Flossmoor worse than they beat Lincoln-Way. Homewood-Flossmoor beat Bremen. But to throw everything into a "cocked hat" the Braves slaughtered Rich.

Lincoln-Way -- Bremen game will be one worth seeing. The Knights will be up and if Kruzich gets a full game out of his first five players -- well that game will be a thriller. You just go and see it.

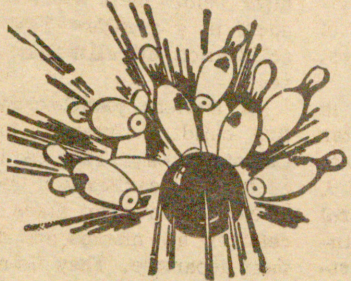

On Friday evening the Knights will get a supreme test. Actually, one may get a preview of what might come next season. The Vikings are primarily a junior outfit, minus the senior center. Lincoln-Way has juniors mixed with a sophomore.

Next season these two teams could be battling for the league crown at this time of year.

Both will be expected to make a run for the championship next year.

This is the spectator's week in the SWS. So much is at stake.

Browsing Through The Cold Stove League

BY DEAN DALLAS

Semmler Press Sports Editor

The holiday lull is over in the SWS. Friday evening the conference goes back to work with every team playing and then there is a full slate set for Saturday evening.

Probably the biggest surprise in the conference was the upset that Homewood-Flossmoor pulled in dumbing Bremen by a dozen points. The week previous the Braves had smothered the Rich Rockets about as badly as Rich has been beaten in this losing season.

Carl Sandburg moved up to the top of the heap in the SWS battle. The Eagles are the only team without a league defeat. They lost their second game by one point to Mokena in some extra-conference action of the holidays. The other loss was a 7-point affair to top ranked Argo at Orland Park.

Bremen would still seem to rate a slight favorite in the Conference action. They should not lose more than one more game over the remainder of the season. It appears that a team with two losses can win the SWS title this year. Better balance dictates this kind of finish.

—O—

Bill Hoffman, former Bremen lineman, received a freshman numeral at Drake University in a recent award assembly.

Ron Fredin of New Lenox was recommended by the football coach at Eastern Illinois University for a varsity award.

—O—

Jim Mifflin is probably the outstanding individual performer in the SW Suburban Conference. Jim stands 6'4" and has sparked the Braves thus far in the campaign.

Teamed with John Ragsdale they made a very fearsome rebounding pair. Both of these boys are extremely good jumpers.

Mifflin is an exceptional shooter, hitting from most any section of the floor on a jump-shot or a set or a driving lay-up type. He must be rated a better college prospect than some of the higher scoring "kids" in the past two years because of his ability to jump and his height.

Homewood-Flossmoor concentrated on stopping him and did a fair job as Jim score only 15 points. However, the remainder of the Bremen team will develop during the season and by tournament time should make things very interesting in the traditional battles with the Thornton teams.
